Venue : Chamber of Commerce de Luxembourg, 7 rue Alcide de Gasperi, L-1615 Luxembourg

Date : 13th May 2013

In a context of great economic volatility it is important to apprehend the logistics megatrends in order to adapt the strategies to the changing market conditions. The Logistics Business Forum will inform on these new market trends by organising conferences with national and international speakers. Increased reactivity and flexibility will be the key to success for logistics hubs and companies.

The Logistics Business Forum is fully customer-oriented and stresses the importance of the logistics sector in the development of the Luxembourg economy.

The focus will be set on active exchanges between shippers and operators in the framework of conferences around three major topics :

- The logistics megatrends and the national action plan for logistics
- Luxembourg, a performance-oriented hinterland hub for ports and seaports
- Luxembourg as an international air freight gateway

A great place will be left to networking. Throughout the day, you can meet the sponsors of the event on their stand, for personal meetings with the exhibitors and attendees of the event. The list of participants will be communicated to all attendants to enable individual appointments.

The day will end with a dinner at the Château de Bourglinster, open to all speakers and the sponsor's guests only.
