CETA

How to best achieve your customs operations from Luxembourg to Canada in the framework of CETA

Export formalities

- Who can lodge the export declaration?
- Economic operator:
 - access to the customs system
 - knowledge to fill out the declaration
- Customs representative:
 - Lodges the declaration on behalf of the exporter

What is origin?

- Geographical and economic link between the good and a country/group of countries
- Economic identity, “nationality”
- Determined by the manufacturing conditions
- Not to be confused with the country of dispatch:
 - indicates the country from which the goods were dispatched / shipped
- Not to be confused with the customs status of a good:
 - goods acquire the customs status of Union goods upon importation into the EU after payment of duties and taxes. This does not change the origin of the goods

2 types of origin

- Goods always have a non-preferential origin
- In addition, they may have a preferential origin
- The non-preferential and preferential origin for the same goods are often identical
- However, the two types of origin may be different
- Each uses its own legal basis and acquisition conditions

CETA

- In the context of CETA, the preferential origin is to be considered in order to benefit from the preferential treatment
- Proof of origin is mandatory

What product can be considered as originating?

- Wholly obtained
- Sufficient production

Wholly obtained

- Goods that are wholly obtained in one country have the origin of that country

Sufficient production

- List rules need to be fulfilled

How to use the list rules?

- CETA
- Protocol on rules of origin and origin procedures → Annex 5 –
Product-specific rules of origin → page 64

Proof of origin

- To be produced on a commercial document
- The exporter of the products covered by this document (customs authorization No ... ⁽²⁾) declares that, except where otherwise clearly indicated, these products are of ... ⁽³⁾ preferential origin.
- REX mandatory > 6000€

On the right side, there is a smaller, faint watermark of the flag of the European Union, which consists of a blue field with twelve gold stars arranged in a circle.
